

At QAA, our goal is to ensure that each graduate is...

- ◆...an individual who demonstrates respect for herself and for others.
- ◆...an individual who makes decisions that promote social justice and the greater good.
- ◆...open to and respectful of other cultures and religious beliefs while familiar with the basic tenets of the Catholic tradition.
- ◆...a responsible citizen who participates in her community.
- ◆...an effective communicator of ideas in both English and French.
- ◆...a perseverant, discerning worker who adapts and evaluates her work methods and goals.
- ◆...a life-long learner who uses effective research strategies, analyzes information, and formulates critical, ethical and aesthetic judgments.
- ◆...a creative and effective problem-solver who is open to collaboration and to a multiplicity of solutions.
- ◆...a team player.
- ◆...an effective user of technology.
- ◆...the owner of her decisions, actions, and resulting consequences.
- ◆...an active promoter of her own well-being.

A student will not be allowed to continue her studies at QAA if she fails to demonstrate that she is striving to achieve to her full potential academically and/or if her behaviour and attitude impede the learning of other students in her class.
